FUNER—GALVON

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Anne's church, Blairmore, at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, June 28, the contracting parties being Anne, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Galvon of Blairmore, and Joseph, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Funfer, of Bellevue. Rev. Dean Harrington performed the ceremony.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, wore a gown of satin and net, with sweetheart neckling and floor-length veil with a heart-shaped coronet. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations with lily of the valley. Her only ornament was a gold locket, gift of the groom.

The bridesmaids were Misses Vilma Chenck and Irene Gibos, cousins of the bride. They were gowned in peach tulle and rose sheer with matching chapel veils. They carried pink and white carnations. Supporting the groom were Mr. Joe Tappay, of Burmis, and Mr. Martin Galvon, brother of the bride.

During the reception held at the home of the bride's parents, approximately 150 friends of the young couple called to extend best wishes.
A 3-tier wedding cake centered the bride's table. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Joe Galvon, brother of the bride, and responded to by the groom.

The happy couple left for a honeymoon to be spent at Spokane and Seattle. For going away the bride chose a cocoa brown suit, topped with gold,
with matching lower accessories.
Upon their return they will reside in Bellevue where the groom is employed.

A very beautiful wedding took place at St. Anne's church, Blairmore, on Saturday, June 28, when Katherine, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Matthew Schlosser, of Blairmore, was united in marriage in a double-tier ceremony to Ernest, second eldest son of Mr. Pete McEwen and the late Mrs.
McEwen, of Lethbridge. Rev. Father
Dean M. A. Harrington officiated.

The bride was lovely in a white sheer gown of floor length with matching veil and carried a bouquet of roses and carnations. Her only ornament was a heart-shaped locket,
gift of the groom.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, followed by Rosemarie Schlosser, niece of the bride, who as flower girl and wore a white gown
She carried a basket of spring flowers.
Miss Violet Mancini, as bridesmaid, wore a blue chiffon gown with a sweetheart neckline covered with blue netting and carried a bouquet of red and pink carnations. Mr. Nicholas Schlosser, brother of the bride, acted as best man.

Mrs. Larry Schlosser, matron of honor, chose a blue sheer gown. Don McEwen, brother of the groom, acted as usher.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was set with a four-tier wedding cake, surrounded by bouquets of pink and white tapers. The toast was proposed by Mr. McEwen and responded to by the groom.

The young couple left on July 1 to Hemlock in Calgary and on their return will make their home in Lethbridge, where the groom is employed.

Mr. Jack Lamey, of Los Angeles, Calif., is on a visit with her sister-in-law, Mr. S. J. Lamey after the two ladies met in Calgary and enjoyed a few days stay there. Mrs. Lamey entertained her visitor on Wednesday evening, when 32 guests were present.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

E. Thompson, of the Cowley airport,
has been transferred to Cranbrook, BC, and the vacancy left by him is filled by Arthur McKinnon.

Armand Lemire arrived home on Saturday from Edmonton where he has finished his second term at St.
Anthony's college.

Mrs. Mollie Milvain of Vancouver, BC, and Jimmie Gann, of the Imperial Oil, Calgary, met here for a visit this week at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gann. Mr.
McGillen of Vancouver was also a guest of the Gann home this week.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Nick Papp in St. Vincent's hospital at Pincher Creek, on Friday, June 27th, a son.
Congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Green and their two sons, Jack and Roland, of Victoria, B. C. arrived here on Sunday by motor and now are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McMillan.

Miss Elizabeth Parry, of Penman-naw, North Wales, has arrived here and will spend a year visiting at the home of her brother, Griffith Parry,
and family and at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. W. T. Murphy in Calgary.
Miss Parry made the trip by aeroplane.
She left London, England, on Wednesday and arrived at Lethbridge Saturday morning, stopping over one night in Newfoundland and one night in Montreal.

Cowley went down to defeat to Macleod in a game of baseball played on home grounds on Wednesday evening to the tune of 9-7.

The Cowley school closed on Friday,
June 27, for the summer vacation.
Principal Peter Iwaszuk will attend summer school at the University of Alberta for the ensuing term. His wife and three children, Mrs. Iwaszuk, accompanied by Mrs. Iwaszuk's mother, Mrs. J. Fournier, will holiday for a few weeks at Waterton Lakes during Mr. Iwaszuk's absence.

The funeral of the late Chasley Ferdyce was held in St. Aidan's Anglican church here on Saturday afternoon, June 28, with Rev. Mr. Cyril Clarke of Pincher Creek in charge.
Interment was made in the Cowley cemetery. Mr. Ferdyce was born in England, coming here in the early days and homesteading in the May-croft district, at which place he resided to the time of his death. He was predeceased by his wife several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Jones and their daughters Estelle and Roberta, of Lundbreck; Mr. Jack Douglas and his son Stewart, of Maycroft, and Mrs. T. B. Jones and their daughter Muriel and son Ernest, of Cowley, formed a holiday party and left on Friday for points in B. C. They will be met at Yank by Mrs. G. Strong (sister of the Jones brothers) of Spokane.
When the party breaks up, Estelle and Roberta Jones will go with their aunt to Spokane, where the two young ladies will spend the summer vacation; the remaining party will return home over the Banff-Windermere trail.

You never realize how little you

STOCK COMPANY TO PLAY BLAIRMORE JULY 9

The only summer stock company in Alberta will visit Blairmore on July 9 and will play in the Columbus hall at 8 p.m. The legitimate single group, University Provincial Players, will present three plays which have been specially selected and directed by Robert Orchard, Professor of Drama, Department of Fine Arts,
University of Alberta.

"Fleur Patelin", a colorful 14th century farce in 3 acts, translated from the original French.

"Johnny Dunn", an Alberta play
by Robert Grant, fascinating a story of Alberta folklore.

"The Happiest Man in the World",
a one-act drama, gripping in intensity
and stark drama.

The troupe is the only one of its kind in Alberta, and consists of a small carefully chosen group of University students who have a keen interest in promoting the work of the theatre in the province.

Playing from the 1st of June to the last of September, the troupe plans to present some 75 performances, from Dawson Creek in the north to Cardston in the south, and from Banff in the west to Lloydminster in the east. They have rented a 16 passenger bus, the rear section of which has been converted into storage space for scenery and costumes. The girls see that the boys pitch in and help with the cooking and laundry, while they in turn help with the costumes and scenery. The male members all have sleeping bags and usually sleep out on the "flea prairie"
or in whatever shelter can be found,
while the girls sleep in private homes or in hotels. The girls declare that although it is fun and wonderful, it is not for anything. When the magic of stage paint and bright lights is in their blood, it makes up for the hardships and inconveniences they endure.

COURT HANDS DOWN

VERY FAIR RULING

Texas courts have held that a motorist who is blinded by the headlights of an approaching car while driving at night, and who hits something while so blinded, is guilty of negligence.

The case which produced this ruling arose after a motorist, travelling at forty miles an hour, crashed into a parked truck which he was unable to see because approaching headlights had blinded him. He was killed, his heirs sued the truck owner, and the defendant replied that the driver had failed to exercise proper care.

This contention the court upheld, and its ruling is worth noting: A driver, it held, must anticipate the presence of objects in his path. If a headlight blinds him, it is up to him
to slow down or stop until he regains his vision. If he does not do so, and hits something, it is his fault.

And there is a lot of sound sense
in this argument.

First sod for the new printing plant of Maclean-Hunter Publishing Company Limited was turned this morning by the man who founded the Company sixty years ago while working as a newspaper reporter - Liscol John Bay - Maclean, Offices and directors of the company and a large gathering of employees with their wives and families were on hand to witness the traditional ceremony. "I talk of men rather than steel and concrete and machinery," said Colonel Maclean, "because a publishing business is essentially a thing of human qualities: I am happy that this new plant has been designed not only for the utmost in efficiency, but for the comfort, health and wellbeing of those who will work in it."

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Guido Petrone, and Mr. and Mrs. Ricardo Petrone and Archie are visiting in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Pitt and Miss Mae Dudley returned recently from a short trip, spent in Calgary.

Miss Evelyn Massine returned from a vacation in Lethbridge.

Mr. Gene Polowski is a business visitor in Kimberley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Curry and children are spending a vacation in Penticton, B. C. They will return by way of Calgary to take in the stampede.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Rhodes are Medicine Hat visitors, attending the wedding of their son, Leslie.

Miss Margaret Hyslop has secured employment in Winnipeg for the summer months.

Mrs. C. McNeil, and daughter, Mrs.
Rhoda Bain, and Miss Kay McNeil
are business visitors in Winnipeg.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Cruickshank, and Mrs. Cruickshank's sister, Mrs.
Shannon, from Manitoba, left on Monday for a month's vacation at the Pacific coast.

Archie Monti has left to spend the summer months with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Cavelli, of Burns.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Clark and family are holidaying at Pincher Creek with Mr. Clark's parents.

Mr. and Mr. M. Bianchini are holi-daying at Yellowstone and other U.S. points.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Karlner of Vancouver are back in town and are considering staying permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Halton and Mr. and Mrs. W. Moser and families were Pincher Creek visitors over the weekend to be with Mr. and Mrs. H. Halton, who were celebrating their Golden Wedding anniversary.

PHILADELPHIA HAS

OUTMODDED LAWS

Some of the outmoded laws still hanging on the books in Philadelphia:
Anybody who drinks in public places "and refuses to go home exactly" can be put in the stocks and will owe the cantalene one shilling sixpence for his trouble.

Anybody boiling a bone in the First or 26th wards is guilty of committing a nuisance.

A ferryman can be fined 10 pounds for refusing to drop his ropes to let a shallop go past, even if he doesn't know a shallop from a green onion.

Persons holding away sheep more than 48 hours without re-eriding same in the Pennsylvania Gazette
may be fined five pounds (10 shillings).
The Gazette quit publishing in 1840.

[We wonder just how much these laws are outmoded.]

HANDLING DDT

DDT is classed as a poison, but says Alan G. Dugan, Division of Entomology, Dominion Department of Agriculture, it can be used safely if applied and handled in accordance with the directions on the container as approved by the Department. DDT preparations should not be applied to plants that are to be used as food, especially shortly before harvest, and oil solutions should not be used on plants at all because the oil will injure the foliage.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lord, of Burnaby, BC, while on a holiday trip, spent a few days this week with relatives in the Pass. It has been several years since Mr. and Mrs.
Lord left Blairmore to reside at the coast and their many friends were glad to meet them.

A lipstick is merely something that gives new flavor to an old pastime.

SCHOOL-CLOSING EVENTS

Closing of the current school term was pleasantly marked when the Students' Council of the Blairmore
High School entertained Friday evening in honor of those pupils who have completed their Grade 12 studies.

The banquet and Dance were held at the Turtle Mountain Playgrounds and catered by Mr. J. Kerr and assistants. Honored guests were Mr. S.
Bannan of the School Board and Mrs.
Bannan; Principal MacPherson and Mrs. MacPherson; Miss A. Soule;
Mr. W. Jallep; Mr. A. Ferguson;
Fannie Gilman; Edgar Diamond;
Bernard Lach; Alex Palka; Frances Mason; Roy Tucker; Agnes Marge-
tak; Andrew Flard; and Tony Pomahac.

At the close of the Banquet, a short program of speeches and toasts were enjoyed. Speeches were given by Mr.
D. MacPherson; Miss A. Soule; Mr.
W. Jallep; Mr. S. Bannan; and Mr. A.
Ferguson, while the toast to The King,
was given by Edgar Diamond; Toast to the guests was given by Edgar Diamond and responded to by Albert Gordon; Toast to the Ladies was given by Alex Palka and responded to by Barbara Mallet; Toast to the Teachers was given by Aubrey Pinkeyne and responded to by Mr. D.
MacPherson; Toast to the School Board was given by Shirley Montalbetti and responded to by Mr. S.
Bannan; and Toast to the Graduating Class was given by Stanley Kish and responded to by Bernard Lach.

The committee in charge of the occasion was headed by Edgar Diamond, retiring President of the Student Body, and by Shirley Montalbetti, the Secretary. They arranged for dancing which was enjoyed until midnight.

During the evening a great program dropped in to join the festivities and all remarked how charming the girls looked in their formal gowns and agreed that this was one of the recent social events that had been staged in the Pass for some time.—S.M.

The Bellevue-Hillcrest High School Annual Graduation Dance was held in the Bellevue I. O. O. F. Hall on Friday, June 27. It was reported by all who attended that a good time was had.

The hall was decorated with green and white streamers and a variety of colored balloons, creating a festival atmosphere as they were centred to the middle of the hall.

Prizes were given for an elimination dance as well as a spot dance.
Quite a few of the young ladies attending wore long dresses and an old bow tie could be spotted among the men folk.

Emmett Murphy, of Blairmore, as usual, stood in the limelight, as the sponsors presented him with the prize for the elimination dance.

A short intermission from midnight 12:15 was acknowledged by the energetic jitterbugs as a welcome
rest period.

Favored with an exceptionally fine
day, Blairmore's 20th annual July 1
sports was accorded good reception
by the public. In the field events, Calgary contestants garnered most of the awards. In baseball results left three teams to play for the prize, Blairmore to meet Wrentham at 1
and the winner to meet Coleman at 6 p.m. on Sunday to finish this event.

Ten happy days are in store for the children from four to ten years of age who will attend the Vacation Bible School to be held in the forenoon at Central United Church from July 7th to 18th, commencing at 9:30 each morning. The programme will consist of worship, stories, songs,
games and handwork, and all children
interested will be made welcome.

An Example To The World

DURING THE RECENT VISIT of President Truman to this country attention was again drawn to the fact that the nations of the North American continent have set an example to the world in the way in which they have lived in peace with each other for more than a century. In his address before the Canadian Parliament the President of the United States expressed the belief that with patience and diligence other nations could learn to live side by side in the same harmony as exists on this continent. In these days when there is so much talk of disunion among nations, it is well to remember that there are no reasons for believing that the enduring peace which has been maintained among the neighboring nations in North America, could not be someday achieved throughout the entire world.

Should Continue To Co-operate

The enviable record which has been established here brings with it responsibilities in world leadership during these difficult days. President Truman pointed out that a great deal had been accomplished during the war, through the co-operation of Canada and the United States, working together for a common purpose and he suggested that we should continue to work together in the interests of permanent world peace. In this connection he said: "One of the most effective contributions which our two countries can make to the cause of the United Nations is the diligent effort to apply on a global scale the principles and practices which we have tested with success on this continent."

Subject Is A Timely One

It must be admitted that the problems here have perhaps been less difficult than those which must be dealt with in other parts of the world. The people of the United States and of Canada have for a large part, much the same racial origins, and speak the same language. These factors have no doubt played a part in making possible the peaceful attitude which exists among the people of both countries. It would be unfair, however, to say that no effort or planning has been required to keep the peace along the thousands of miles of our great international boundary. The cordial relations which exist between the people of Canada and of the United States stand as an example of what could be accomplished on a world-wide scale, and it was timely indeed, that President Truman should have so forcefully pointed it out when he visited this country.

His Majesty Has No Building Priority

LONDON.—The King ranks with plain John Citizen when it comes to obtaining hard-to-get building materials. Builders for the Royal Household applied to the Ministry of Works for a licence to obtain concrete needed to complete work on a new oil-burning heating system for Buckingham Palace. But they will have to wait their turn. A Ministry official said: "There is a shortage of concrete and this work will have to take its turn with other non-priority applications. The King would rank with plain John Citizen in his application for supplies."

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

"Agnes married a self-made man."

"Yes, but she compelled him to make extensive alterations."

"And how high does your balloon go?" asked the old lady.

The sergeant scratched his head.

"Funny you should say that, Ma'am," he replied. "I've been wondering about it all day. You see, when we pulled it in this morning we looked up on top, and there, large as life, lay a blooming harp."

The professor had just received a title, and the reporter of the local newspaper was trying to get some information from the man's wife.

"And what?" he asked, "Is the professor's principal subject?"

"Well," hesitated the wife, "I think it consists chiefly in hunting for his spectacles."

He was well known at the club for slowness in paying his debts, also for his boasting, and his friends and acquaintances were tired of it. The other day he said in the club: "I've been to all the leading shops in the town, and I'm dashed if I can get what I want."

"What is it?" enquired a candidate member, "credit?"

Teacher: "Now, Freddy, why does a polar bear wear a fur coat?"

Freddy: "Oh-er, well I suppose he would look funny in a tweed one!"

"Dearest Annabelle," wrote Oswald, who was hopelessly in love. "I could swim the mighty ocean for one glance from your dear eyes. I would walk through a wall of flame for one touch of your little hands. I would leap the widest stream for a word from your lovely lips. As always, Your Oswald."

"P.S.—I'll be over Saturday night if it doesn't rain."

Mrs. Jones was very proud of her son, who showed promise as an athlete.

"Yes, he must be a very fast runner," she explained proudly to a neighbor. "Look at this newspaper report of the sports yesterday. It says he fairly burned up the track."

"And it's quite true," she added confidently. "I went to see the track this morning, and it's nothing but cinders."

"It was so cold where we were," boasted the Arctic explorer, "that the candle froze and we couldn't blow it out."

"That's nothing," said his rival. "Where we were the words came out of our mouths in pieces of ice, and we had to try them to see if they were talking about."

A clergyman and a Scotsman were watching a baseball game together. The Scotsman continually took nips from a bottle, and the clergyman, no longer able to restrain himself, at last cried out: "Sir, for 60 years I have never in my life have I touched alcohol."

"Well, damn worry yourself too much," replied the Scotsman with a pronounced burr, "you're na ginnin' start noo."

BROADWAY BOUND—Good reports come from New York about Ruth Hutchinson, 21, seen here, of Bowmanville, Ont. She has set her course for a Broadway drama career after starting in a Canadian army show unit overseas. When discharged, and with the help of the Department of Veterans Affairs, she went to dramatic school in New York. She is considering using Liz Miller as a stage name.

Retractable Skis Developed For Planes

DAYTON, O.—Development of novel retractable skis, permitting planes to land and take off from snow-covered runways, was announced by the United States Army Air Force at Wright Field.

The skis are added over regulation wheels, allowing the use of either as the occasion arises. The center section of the aluminum alloys skis is cut away, allowing the wheel to come through.

Officials said the ski gear will permit use of landing fields through a greater part of the year than ever before.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

FAULTS

If we were faultless we should not be so much annoyed by the defects of those with whom we associate.—Fenelon.

Ten thousand of the greatest faults in our neighbors are of less consequence to us than one of the smallest in ourselves.—Whately.

Well may we feel wounded by our own faults; but we can hardly afford to be miserable for the faults of others.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Great men are very apt to have great faults; and the faults appear the greater by their contrast with their excellencies.—Charles Simmons.

But, by all thy nature's weakness, Hidden faults and follies known, Be thou, in reeking evil, Conscious of thine own.—Whittier.

What an absurd thing it is to pass over all the valuable parts of a man, and fix our attention on his infirmities.—Addison.

Agriculturists To Help Ontario's Harvest Work

WINNIPEG, Man.—Two thousand agricultural workers from the prairie provinces will be transported to Ontario within the next few weeks to help with the Ontario harvest operations.

This excursion brought about through co-operation between the Dominion and Provincial governments began on June 23rd and continues until July 15th.

Special excursion fares are made available to interested workers. Transportation from any point in the three prairie provinces to Ontario will be ten dollars, with an equal amount charged for the return home. Those agricultural workers who go to Ontario from Manitoba will be expected to return to their homes between August 17th and 31st. Workers from Saskatchewan and Alberta will return between August 23rd and 31st.

In making this statement in Winnipeg today, Mr. Fred J. White, Regional Superintendent of the Unemployment Insurance Commission said that all of the offices of the National Employment Service as well as offices of the Provincial Farm Labour Service are now fully prepared to handle applications from qualified farm workers. When these applications have been approved and the workers will be given travel warrants. Presentation of the warrant and payment of ten dollars to the nearest railway agent will gain the worker his transportation east.

To interested farm workers it must be noted that reduced excursion rates will be made available only through the offices of the National Employment Service or the Provincial Farm Labour Service.

Africa Buys Buses Made At Fort William

FORT WILLIAM.—More than 100 buses manufactured in the Fort William plant of Canadian Car and Foundry Company are to be delivered to the Union of South Africa in a transaction estimated to be worth $2,000,000, it was announced.

The South African Government has chosen 114 of the gasoline-driven buses of the inter-city type of its state-operated transportation system.

Australia Depends On Close Tie With U.S.

SYDNEY, Australia.—A peaceful future for Australia depends on close co-operation with the United States as well as with the United Kingdom, Prime Minister Chifley said at the annual conference of the New South Wales Labor Party.

The Prime Minister said Australia no longer can rely for her defence on the United Kingdom, whose economic position requires the "greater role of the Dominions in maintenance of world stability."

WIVES NEED A HOLIDAY

MALVERN, Worcestershire, England.—All wives are entitled to a holiday if more modern marriages are not to break down, Rev. H. J. Freisenberger told married members of his parish.

"My advice to the men," he said, "is to take their wives away to the seaside for a holiday and if necessary sacrifice their cigarettes in order to get there. It is better than fobbing her off with a visit to the pictures."

The word heathen once referred to country folk.

FAN TANS are festive!

RECIPE

Add 1 envelope Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast and 1 tsp. sugar to 1 c. lukewarm water. Stir and let stand 10 minutes. Scald 1 c. milk; add 5 lbs. sugar; add 2 tsp. salt and cool to lukewarm. Add to yeast mixture. Add 3 c. sifted flour and beat until perfectly smooth. Add 4 lbs. melted shortening and 3 c. more sifted flour or enough to make easily handled dough. Knead well. Place in greased bowl. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk, about 1 1/2 hours. Punch dough down in bowl and let rise again. In warm place until nearly doubled in bulk, about 40 min. When light, roll out into rectangular sheet 3/4" thick. Brush with melted butter or shortening; cut into strips 1 1/4" wide. Place 7 strips together; cut into piece 1 1/2" wide. Place inside up in greased muffin pans. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until light, about 1 hour. Bake in 400°F. oven for 20 minutes.

CANADIANS IN GERMANY APPLY FOR CITIZENSHIP

At The Rate Of Twenty To Thirty A Day

OTTAWA.—Residents of Germany claiming Canadian citizenship are applying to the Canadian military mission to Germany at the rate of 20 to 30 a day to have their status clarified, the mission reported to the External Affairs department.

All inquiries are carefully scrutinized, and if needed, further information is sought from the responsible department in Ottawa. Most of such cases relate to naturalized persons who have been absent from Canada for a long time.

The mission, headed by Lt.-Gen. Maurice A. Pope, acts primarily in a diplomatic and consular capacity, and consists of 28 Canadian soldiers and several civilians. It is the official link between the Canadian government and the Allied Control Council and looks after the interests of Canadians in Germany, informing the government on conditions there.

Canadians owning property in Germany may avail themselves of the facilities of the mission for its protection while businessmen wishing to trade in Germany are also aided by the mission through the External Affairs department.

Gen. Pope was military adviser to the prime minister during 1945, and prior to that headed the Canadian military staff in Washington. Last fall he was elected Doyen of all military missions in Berlin accredited to the Allied Control Council.

THRILL OF A LIFETIME

Some 32 Canadian Boy Scouts are due for a thrill when, on August 2nd,
they sail from Halifax aboard H.M.C.S. Waror, Canada's first aircraft carrier. The lads will be members of the Canadian contingent to Boy Scout Jamboree of Peace in France which will be attended by 30 thousand Scouts from 40 different countries. The Jamboree Troop, which will be representatives of all Provinces, is scheduled to assemble in Halifax on July 27th, for a six-day training period at the Halifax District Scout Camp at Miller's Lake. Three leaders will accompany the Troop overseas.

Warden: "What do you want to see the governor about?"

Convict: "Well, I've been here
twelve months now, and I haven't heard a word about my holidays."

EUNTY ON COYOTES

In an effort to conquer the increasing pestilence of coyotes in Alberta,
new regulations covering the payment of bounties have been announced by the Hon. N. E. Tanner, Minister of Lands and Mines.

Between May 1st, 1947, and September 30th, 1947, $5.00 will be the bounty paid and between Oct. 1, 1947, and March 31st, 1948, $3.00 will be paid, these rates applying to males and females, adults or pups.

The bounty is to be paid on coyotes taken in the provinces. Applications must be made on the proper form and the post must be presented to one of:

1. Constable of the R. C. M. P.
2. Justice of the Peace.
3. Commissioner for Oaths.
4. A Game Officer or a Forestry Officer.

The officer will split both ears of the animal down the middle from the tip to the base and will return the pet to the applicant for disposal as required. The applicant will be required to produce evidence as to time and place that each coyote was taken when making claim. No person holding a license to buy or sell fur shall be eligible to make application for the bounty.

Business: what, when you don't have any, you go out of.

$10,477,921 PROFIT

For the three months ended April 30, 1947, Distillers Corporation-Seagrams Limited and its subsidiaries showed a profit of $10,477,921 after all operating charges were deducted.
Income and excess profits taxes, including $7,566,976, leaving a net profit for the period of $10,477,921.

The net profit for nine months was $2,312,779 after deducting $29,450-164 income and excess profits taxes from a total profit of $71,762,943 from which all operating charges had been deducted. The net profit for the corresponding three months in 1946 was $4,995,383 and for the nine months it was $18,189,824.

THISTLE OF SCOTLAND

The thistle was adopted as the symbol of Scotland to commemorate an unsuccessful attack by Danes on Stirling Castle in the eighth century.
The presence of the Danes was revealed through their advance action treading barefoot on thistles, and being compelled with the sudden pain involuntarily to cry out. The Scots routed them with great slaughter.

You can't choose your ancestors but that's fair enough. They probably wouldn't have chosen you.

SKIN INFLAMMATION

Industrial health authorities at Ottawa warn against use as skin
cleansers of such industrial solvents
as gasoline, kerosene, petroleum spirits and paint-thinners.

By their deft action, such substances can cause skin inflammation.
Those handling them are advised to use solvent-proof gloves, and, if there is danger of splashing or air-borne mist, to smear exposed skin surfaces
with a protective cream.

HOW ONE COUPLE GOT GOOD SUPPLY OF SOAP

There's a quaint, old-fashioned flavor about the story of the couple who furnished a 12-room house with premiums redeemed for soap coupons.
They showed a friend around proudly
commenting on how many coupons each chair, table or carpet "cost". At the end of the tour the visitor said,
"But you've shown me only five of the 12 rooms—what about the other seven?"

"Oh, those", shrugged the householder. "That's where we keep the soap."

IT'S A MENACE TO OUR FORESTS

Most people think of forest fires
as causing a destruction of trees alone. Even that would be reason enough for all-out prevention. But forest fires result in far more devastation than ruined timber stands.
They destroy wild life and farms, sawmills and homes. They leave the earth barren, unfit for tillage.

They expose the soil to erosion, allow spring floods, and summer dryness.
All of us suffer when a forest fire strikes. All of us lose an irreplaceable portion of our heritage. Since any of us can cause fires, it is up to all of us to see that no one does! Resolve to keep the forests green. Be careful with fire yourself—see that your neighbor is careful.

THE CANADIAN INDIANS

No one knows for sure where the Indians came from, but if you ask an Indian he will instinctively turn to the north.

Experts say that long before there was any civilization in Greece, or Egypt, small bands of hunters moved out of Asia into Alaska and through there to Canada. Every party that drifted across the Bering Strait brought its own customs, and many had different languages. That is why the white men found no fewer than fifty distinct tribes in North America, speaking eleven languages.

The Indians attained a closely knit community life in this new continent because of their loyalty to the tribe and tribal customs, and obedience to their chiefs. This way of living suited a country that was thinly populated, with little personal and no economic connection between groups.

Political structure varied from tribe to tribe. Usually it involved only recognition of a chief or headman, but in some tribes the clan and totem organization formed a fairly elaborate social system. T. R. L. MacInnes, Secretary of the Indian Affairs Branch, said in a paper at the annual meeting of the Canadian Political Science Association last year: "The nearest approach to established government was among the Iroquois, whose League of the Six Nations constituted an effective mutual aid pact with quite modern connotations. None of the aboriginal Indian tribal organizations are really adaptable to the economic and social life of the present era. Therefore an attempt has been made to introduce democratic, local self-government on Indian reserves. . . . At the present time practically all the bands in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces are under the elective system. In the West, with a few exceptions, mostly in British Columbia, the Indians continue to follow their tribal methods."

Originally the Indians were hunters. A little corn was grown in New Brunswick and in Ontario, but mainly the Algonquians depended for food and clothing upon deer, rabbits, small game and fish. The Hurons and Iroquois of the St. Lawrence Valley and southern Ontario lived in relatively permanent villages and cultivated extensive fields of corn, but their hunting was important. Wood was used for houses, canoes, containers and the handles of tools. Working in stone was not very good, but the use of bone was highly developed, particularly for awls, bodkins, and punches. Pottery was poor in quality but useful. The prairie Indians depended upon the bison, or buffalo. Its flesh was the most important source of food, its skin served for blankets and as covering for tents, and its bones for scrapers and other implements. The Pacific coast Indians were fishermen, users of wood, and artists. Other characteristics marked tribes of the North-West and the interior of British Columbia, where life was lived according to a pattern set by natural surroundings.

It will be noted that nowhere in this picture of Indian life, is mention made of industries, wholesalers, retailers, banks, or the other professions and businesses so necessary to mid-twentieth-century society. The problem of Indian adjustment has not been one merely of meeting a new mode of life, controlled by entirely new principles. The white man changed the whole shape of Indians ways of existence.

Morally, the Indians had high standing. Their system of ethics and code of honour was almost Spartan in its rectitude. They had developed culturally, too. Speaking of the Blackfeet of Alberta, Ven. Archbishop S. H. Middleton says: "Several of their stories, legends and myths have an equal standing with the ancient classics. It is a little startling to see in the story of the Medicine Pipe a close parallel to the classical myth of Orpheus and Eurydice. In another of their stories is an incident which might have been taken bodily from the Odyssey."

SCOUTERS SAVE WOMEN'S LIFE

Overcome by gas fumes in the kitchen of her home in Montreal, Mrs. R. Smith of 4230 Royal Avenue, N.D.G., owes her life to the prompt action of two young Boy Scout Leaders. Summoned by frantic neighbours, Scoutmaster Arthur Holmes and Assistant S.M. Alex Branson, gave her artificial respiration for three-quarters of an hour before she revived. Later Mrs. Smith was given inhalator treatment by a Hydro-Quebec emergency treatment crew and taken to hospital where she made a complete recovery.

Sign in store: "The world may come to an end soon. Please pay your bills now so we won't have to hunt all over hell for you."

FRANCE HAS THE DEEPEST HOLE IN EUROPE

On May 27 the French spelologist and mountain-climber, Pierre Chevalier of Lyons, explored the deepest hole in Europe: the Dent de Crolles near Grenoble. The expedition lasted only eleven hours, but it had been prepared by twelve years of study including 1,000 hours spent below the earth's surface. The Dent de Crolles is 2193 feet deep, exceeding the depth of the Italian Great Hole of Preda by 70 feet. An important discovery made in the cave was that of the skeleton of a giant prehistoric bear, one of whose canines measured more than five inches in length.

On from Grand Rapids for his semi-annual fling in New York, the general manager of one of the country's biggest manufacturers of dining room sets registered at the Waldorf and snatched forth in search of adventure.

He found it right in the lobby in the form of a stunning and exotic young lady.

He smiled at her. She smiled back. When it developed that she was a foreigner who obviously couldn't understand English, let alone speak it, our hero took a piece of newspaper and rapidly drew upon it a sketch of a taxi cab. The lady nodded. A few minutes later they were seated at a table in the Stock Club. On another piece of paper he drew a picture of a couple dancing. She nodded again. She was a wonderful dancer, too.

For what happened next, we quote a paragraph from a letter he sent to his brother the next day. "When we got back to our table, I sure was feeling fine. Suddenly this beauty grabbed my pad from me and did a little dancing herself. It was a picture of a beautiful Louis XIV love seat. Now what I'd like to explain, Walter, is this. How on earth do you think that damn knew I was in the furniture business?"

AFTER THE WOOD IS DRIED—Flood waters of the raging Des Moines river had so undermined the concrete in some sections of Ottumwa, Iowa, that the paving caved and shattered. The auto shown in this photo will find tough going when its removal is attempted by the owner—just one of the "headaches" of the aftermath of one of the mid-west's worst floods.

URGES ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAY DEVELOPMENT—The much-discussed question of the St. Lawrence waterway development was revived recently by U.S. Gen. Marshall. In a talk, with ex-president Herbert Hoover the general urged that the development be undertaken as an aid to military preparedness.

TOWN PROTESTS LACK OF ATTENTION—Atikokan, 150 miles west of Port Arthur, claims it is being ignored by the provincial government. Milk costs 20 cents a quart, three cents more than at Port Arthur, but beer is the same price. The town, 1,300 population, has no fire department, no water or sewage system, no dentist and one doctor. Carol Sweeney's parents say milk bill is $5 weekly.

STANLEY ISN'T GLAD ANY MORE—If Stanley Glad's name was anything else he couldn't be less glad than he was when bandits left him like this, all tied up with neckties, after beating and gassing him. It happened at the Oriole Cleaners in Chicago when thugs raided the place and made off with a truckload of furs, one safe, intact, and the contents of another.

GROTESQUE TOUCH TO ANTI-HEALTH BILL PARADE—Masked and gowned, medical students parade outside Royal Albert Hall, London, England, with placards protesting the government's health bill and its provisions for a state medical service. Some of the Housewives' League demonstrators watch the parade.

COL. O. S. HOLLINRAKE TO OCCUPY BENCH—Col. O. S. Hollinrake, whose appointment to the magistrate's bench has recently been announced by Attorney-General Blackwell. An artilleryman during the first great war, he commanded No. 2 District Depot in the last.

To Trade With Brazil On New Money Basis

OTTAWA.—The Foreign Exchange Control Board announced that Canadian exporters and importers now may trade with Brazil on either a sterling or United States dollar basis.

The move represented a further step in carrying out an agreement by the United Kingdom to make sterling earnings of foreign countries available for use anywhere by July 15.

In the first quarter of this year, Canadian sales to Brazil totalled $6,190,134 and imports $2,698,647. The addition of Brazil brings to 25 the number of countries already opened to sterling or U.S. dollar trade with Canada.

SHORTAGE OF WATCH DOGS TO COMBAT CRIME

SINGAPORE.—The people of Singapore ate most of their dogs during the Japanese occupation. Now there is a shortage of watch dogs to combat a crime wave.

To relieve the dog shortage, 89 pedigreed dogs, ranging from Great Danes to Pekinises, was flown to Singapore from Australia.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY— MOTH IN BARE FEET

By WALLACE H. CLAY

It wasn't a very bad morning-after, as mornings-after go. The little housekeeping noises from downstairs didn't jar particularly, and Ben Wilson felt that he might even go for some eggs and bacon—if there was any bacon. He smiled luxuriously at the thought of his five-day work week with its six-day take-home pay.

Plutocrat, he grunted contentedly, no less. Now, if only he could ring and have his coffee brought up. He toyed with the idea as being a very good one.

Coffee. That was what he had been looking for last night at the party. He shouldn't have gone along with the boys after the foreman's meeting was over; but, well, he began to back-track through the evening in lazy, semi-wakeful stages. Something bright, he remembered, like a flame. Something about cinders; not in his eye—or were they...

Well, of course! Harry's cousin, the unattached red-head that took the place over the moment she arrived. That suggested the analogy; the way that the gang crowded around her like a pack of moths. There used to be a song that went something like that...Men cluster to me like moths around a flame; and if their wings burn I know I'm not to blame. "M-m-m, not much! Lucky he had a swell little wife, waiting home for him or he would have been like the rest of those jerks."

Harry had left early—something about a fishing trip—but Lucinda had said that she was a big girl now and that she was going to stay. Ben remembered kidding her about her name, calling her "Cindah," which, he explained with great elaboration, was cinder with a Boston accent. He thought that was very clever—last night. Finally he got around to wondering who had taken her home. He remembered vaguely of some sort of election, but he couldn't put his finger on what happened from there on out.

"Casualty's Ghost!" Ben was abruptly fully awake and sitting up. He stared about the room. He distinctly remembered one thing, and that was placing his coat and shirt on a chair, but where were they now?

His bare feet hit the floor with a splat. Why, oh why, in his cups, had he overlooked that great Truth: That no matter how perfect a woman's coiffure, the odds are heavy on it shodding at the wrong time. Truly, his wife was a decided brunette—there was no "out" in that direction.

A quick search of the clothes closet confirmed the worst. Keys, billfold and miscellaneous junk were piled on the dresser but there was no evidence of the suit he had worn. The left, but one thing to do. Get the habes corpus of corpus delicti

Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. This fine medicine is very effective for this condition. For over 70 years thousands of girls and women have reported benefit. Just see if you, too, don't report excellent results! Worth trying.

or whatever you called the fatal object.

Ben slipped into a pair of slacks and sport shirt and headed for the stairs. Halfway down he slowed his pace; stopped. It wouldn't do to just go barging in and demand the coat without a reason, a causal reason. And if she knew! Ah, if she knew, the reason would play no part of it.

The swinging door leading to the kitchen let out a creak. Truly Wilson put on her best wifely smile.

"Did I wake you up? I let you sleep late because—Ben, what's ailing you? You're green!"

She let the door swing shut and walked to the foot of the stairs. Ben spurred himself into a sort of zombie shuffle and headed for the kitchen with Truly close behind.

The coffee was black and hot. Truly was cheerful, almost solicitous. It just could be that there was nothing wrong after all. The thought brought him up with a jerk. He took a deep breath.

"That dark grey coat I had on last night—what happened to it? I think I left some papers in it."

"I don't think you did, honey. I emptied the pockets and brought it down to put a press in it this morning. But after—well, I mean I think it had better go to the cleaners..."

She left the words hanging on the edge of her coffee cup.

Ben choked and almost seared his throat. Good grief! So all this had been her delightful little way of softening him up for the final skull cracking.

Okay, if it's gotta go, it's gotta go—but where is it? "In the hall closet—no wait, dear! Finish your coffee, won't you? You're not going anywhere looking like that!" Truly half rose, but Ben had shoved back his chair and barged out of the room.

He groped for the light switch. The coat was in plain view and a quick once-over afforded no trace of strawberry blonde hair or any other signs of the previous evening's foray. Ben sighed in relief. His honor was saved, and Truly, grand little pal, had been on the level all the time.

She probably had made that crack just to see what he'd say—and he, like a sap...oh, well.

He was just turning to make a gallant return to the kitchen when a peculiar scent touched his nostrils. He sniffed. There was something alien about it that didn't belong in the Wilson household. Certainly nothing that Truly used.

The newly acquired strength trickled down into his bare toes and disappeared into the equally bare floor. Perfume! The coat was reeking with the stuff! His eyes darted, seeking a hiding place either for the coat or himself; it didn't matter which.

He had just grabbed the offending garment from the hanger when the kitchen door let out a warning squeak. This is it, opined Ben grimly. He was caught with his corpus delicti down.

Gently Truly took the coat from his damp fingers. Hastily she held the shoulder of it under his nose.

"You smell that?" she asked simply.

"How could I miss?" he breathed.

"You might just as well—" "Now don't get mad, Ben," truly Wilson stopped her husband with a tip-toe kiss. "It's nothing that the clothes can't remove, if you'll just wait. I spilled the whole bottle of that new smelly moth repellant when I was trying to put a few drops on the light bulb up there.

"You know," she added defensively, "moths go crazy around a light—or a flame. Ben..."

"Rush, child, and let me kiss you," Ben said a moment later. "I don't know how your moths can even stand to get near that stuff; it's potent!"

"I hope so," murmured Truly. "There's a big one around here somewhere that I really wanted to get."

"Was a big one," corrected her husband, and as she looked up quickly, he added, "It's been singed, seared and purified—you won't have any more trouble from him. You know, out like a light—or a flame."

And suiting the action to words, he found the pull-cord with his free hand and the closet was dark again. (Copyright, Montreal-Herald-Examiner, Syndicate)

Many British Plants Seek Canadian Sites

TORONTO.—A heavy influx of British industries into Canada within a few years was predicted by W. H. Sheriff, M.P.E., an executive of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Great Britain.

Mr. Sheriff, who plans a tour of the Dominion to stimulate trade with Great Britain, described as "almost unbelievable" the industrial advances made in this country during the past 10 years.

More and more British firms are seeking information from the Chamber of Commerce about Canada with a view to locating here, he said. The volume of these enquiries was a definite indication that Canada's war-developed industrial picture will continue to expand.

JAM MARGUERITES
These bits of rosy stuff are fit for a goddess!

1 egg white
1 cup fat red jam
2 drops lemon extract
1 cup chopped nut meats
24 salted crackers

Beat egg white until stiff; add jam gradually and beat with rotary egg beater until thoroughly blended. Add flavoring and 1 tablespoon nuts.

Place a tablespoon of mixture on each cracker, sprinkle with the remaining nuts, and bake in hot oven (400 deg. F.) 10 minutes, or until delicately browned. Makes 24 marguerites.

CHOCOLATE ICEBOX COOKIES
3/4 cups sifted flour
3/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cups softened butter or other shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
4 squares unweetened chocolate, melted

1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups broken walnut meats
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again.

Combine shortening, sugar, eggs, chocolate, and vanilla, beating with spoon until blended; add nuts. Add flour gradually, mixing well after each addition. Divide dough in two parts; shape in rolls, 2 inches in diameter, rolling each in waxed paper. Chill overnight, or until firm enough to slice. Cut in 1/4-inch slices on ungreased baking sheet in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 10 minutes, or until done. Makes about 18 dozen icebox cookies. Wrapped rolls of dough may be kept in refrigerator and cookies sliced and baked as needed.

U.S. Will Help Canada's Vets House Program

WASHINGTON.—The United States will help Canada's veterans housing program with the same priority ratings for shipments of production material and equipment it offers the United States veterans housing program, the Commerce Department announced.

"Canadian producers of building materials will be extended the same limited assistance as is now given similar producers in this country," the department's Office of Materials Distribution (OMD) said.

Canada has adopted construction controls comparable to those of the United States.

"Preference ratings will be assigned by OMD under the same conditions and to the same extent that the office of the housing expediter assigns similar ratings in support of the veterans emergency housing program in the United States," the OMD said.

Canadian applications for OMD ratings must first be "screened and endorsed" by the Canadian Government priorities office, Department of Restriction and Supply, the OMD said.

FEED GRAIN CEILING

OTTAWA.—The Prices Board announced the establishment of a price ceiling on the sale of bagged western feed grain and feed screenings which sold in Eastern Canada and said the action was aimed at maintaining "reasonable price levels."

A method of drying and preserving potatoes was developed by the Andean Indians before 1,500.

New "air" of Smartness

A product of General Motors

FOLKS EVERYWHERE are singing the praises of the smart new Oldsmobile car. Style alone would make it the smart buy of the year! Long, flowing lines, tasteful trim, beautifully tailored interiors . . . all combine to give this car a smooth-as-a-melody, "new-as-tomorrow" look. And when you consider that the new Oldsmobile is the lowest-priced car to offer GM Hydra-Matic Drive*, the General Motors drive—that makes Oldsmobile a smart choice automatically. For Hydra-Matic Drive* is the only fully proved, fully automatic drive. The only drive that shifts gears through four forward speeds without any effort whatsoever on your part. The only drive that eliminates the clutch pedal entirely! . . . Just forget the clutch and gear . . . all you do is sit and steer. No wonder so many smart people say "It's SMART to own an Olds."

*Hydra-Matic Drive optional at extra cost.

KEEP YOUR CAR "IN TUNE"

To you who are waiting for your new Oldsmobile—our thanks for your patience . . . our tribute to your wisdom. The demand for Oldsmobile with the new GM Hydra-Matic Drive* is so widespread that it still greatly exceeds the supply. Make sure your present car carries you conveniently and safely through the waiting period by having it serviced regularly by your Oldsmobile dealer.
